ENORMOUS WHEAT PROSPECT

THOMAN'S REPORT INDICATES A CROP OF 775,000,000 BUSHELS.

Kentucky's Prospect the Finest Ever Known-Price of Wheat Crowded Down-Corn, Onto and Provisions Higher.

CHICAGO. June 9.-The great prospects for nex year's wheat crops all over the world became the paramount influence to-day and an early advance a more than wiped out. July closed with a loss to and September 1%61%. Corn left off the her. Outs are up %6%. Provisions all thowas higher. Outs are up %6%c. Provisions all showed advances—pork Esc and lard and ribe each 17%c. The chief factors in wheat market at the start were the upward movement in Liverpool and the continued rains in this country. Some of the early cables from Liverpool quoted July nearly to per bushel sligher, with September also stronger. This gave the bulls here considerable encouragement and at the same time caused shorts some alarm. The rains the same time caused shorts some alarm. The rains are the large time caused shorts some alarm. the winter wheat belt continue and as the har-est is near at hand, traders began to fear a wet arvest, so that shorts were inclined to cover and wast is near at hand, traders began to fear a wet harvest, so that shorts were inclined to cover and there was also some disposition to take the long side for a turn. On the other side of the account were the following fresh pieces of information: The Kentucky state wrop report gave the condition of wheat 184, which was said to be the highest ever seconded in Kentucky. Thoman's June crop report gave condition indicating a total crop of winets and garing wheat of unprecedented magnitude, 775,000,000 hushels being the estimate from the present outlook. The market became gradually heavy as the session progressed, the bearish feeling being encouraged by the prospective harvesting of an immense crop, and the early advance was lost. Lefter brokers were seasy sellers of Suptember at a decline. At the present raise of shipment the contract grade in stors will soon be down to less than $80,000. This imparted a good deal of strength to July. The local receipts were 60 cars, against 12 cars the same day last year. Minneapolis and Dolluth received 197 cars against 221 a year ago. The total receipts at Western primary markets were 196,000, against 200,000 bushels a year ago. Atlantic port exports of wheat and sour were equal to 610,000 bushels. July opened 160 to 6, declined steadily to 87c, then railled to 875c, the closing price. Beptember started 160 ic higher, at 1816 fisc, add down to 835c, up to 160 to 160

The output of flour for the week at Minneapolis, Duluth, Milwaukse and St. Louis was only 23,000 barrels, against 200,700 barrels the previous week and 372,000 barrels a year ago.

Rather heavy showers fell nearly everywhere in the winter wheat states Wednesday night, and there is no prospect of clear weather. The rain was heaviest in Kanssa, except the arireme eastern part.

Exporters took at New York Wednesday 118,000 bushels of wheat and 98,000 bushels at Baltimore for France, also 224,000 bushels of corn, 75,000 bushels of type and 118,000 bushels of cars, T5,000 bushels of great at New York.

Testerday's clearances for export at the four Atlantic ports were 570,000 bushels of wheat, 12,000 packages of flour, $21,000 bushels of corn, 475,000 bushels of costs and 217,181 bushels of rre. Total wheat and flour clearances amount to $21,000 bushels and corn 1,218,000 bushels.

Testerday's Cincinnati Price Current says: Moisture is deficient in a portion of the Central regions, awakening some apprehension as to belated corn. This crop is uneven, but admits of an average quantity. There are slight drawbacks in a limited portion of the winter wheat section. The spring wheat crop is developing well.

An Omaha special says: One-quarter to one-third of the cats in Nebraska are lodged, the balance heavy on the ground and in bad position if rain continues. Some reports say wheat is rusting, but there is little lodgment. There are scattering reports of chinch bugs. The best judges say the corn prospect is the poorest in fifteen years.

Stocks and Bonds.

NEW YORK, June 5.—To-day's stock market was almost a repetition of yesterday's, except that the marked weakness of Sugar had rather less effect on the general market than was the case yesterday. This stock began to drop from the epening and fell away by spuris until the recovery in the final hour. Apparently some support was forthcoming at each successive point downward, or the zelling pressure was temporarily relaxed. These occasional rallies were not of large proportions and the stock succumbed readily to renewed raids upon it. The extreme decline was over 4 points. Brooklyn Transit was the most conspicuous stock for strength. A very large and urgent demand developed for it in the latter part of the day, blocks of 1,000 shares lifting the price ½ of a point at a time to a level of over 3 points above that of last night. Tobacco was a medium between strength and weakness. It was weak at one time during the morning, but was very conspicuous in the afternoon rally, rising strongly over 4 points. This rise and the rally in Sugar came after the news from Washington of the action of the conferees on the revenue bill. The railroad list was comparatively neglected all day, the market being distinctively one of specialties. There was a drive against the grangers in the late dealings which carried Burlington down nearly a point below last night's level, but a full recovery was effected before the close. Some of the railroad failed to recover fully and the majority show small net losses. For the most part there was a disposition to let the railroad list alone on account of the unsetting influences of the weakness in Sugar. The strength in Brooklyn Trannit was due to the large increase in earnings shown with the advent of pleasant weather. The local gas securities were all strong, both on the exchange and in the outside market, on renewal of talk of a consolidation of all existing companies. But the strength was not fully held. The closing was active and strong at full recoveries in some case.

Railroad bonds were active NEW YORK, June 9.-To-day's stock market was Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, June 9.—The trading in dry goods continues fair. There have been gains pretty steadily in nearly all strictly seasonable lines, owing to the continuance of summer weather. Staple lines of cotton goods show generally poor results and prospects which are still problematical. The contracts for government goods continue to engross the attention of sellers. In staple cotton there has been some trading, which continues from day to day. It is not free enough, though, to induce enthusiasm among sellers. Frint goods are still firm, though prospects are not so bright as when a general curtailment was in progress. The quotation on extras is still 2s. Prints are again quiet in nearly all grades.

EUROPE FEARS AND HATES US Because America Is Strong, Free and the Friend of Freedom in Other Lands.

Mr. Arnold White, the London corre-

Mr. Arnold White, the London correspondent of Harper's Weekly, has an energetic paragraph in the current number of the weekly on the present friendly disposition of the English people. After discussing the hostility or apathy manifested in this crisis toward both England and the United States by France, Germany, Austria and Italy, Mr. White continues:

"Do not let the American public make any mistake about the facts. If England is unpopular on the continent, it is partly because she is strong, and partly because she is not only free, but the friend of freedom in other lands. America is disliked among the despotisms for the same reasons. Continental powers know that the organized armed strength of the United States at the end of this war, let it end when it may, will make America a match for the great powers, whether in the Pacific or in the Atlantic. Foreigners perceive that the rescue of Cuba from Spanish brutality will introduce the United States into the circle of the great European powers. To her will fall the disposition of the Philippine islands and perhaps of Morocco—sweet morsels hankered after by Germany, by Japan and by France. With the direct entry of the United States into the territorial interests of the wide world, her role in the drama of the next century will be a leading one. Furthermore, the policy of Spain may be to make the war a succession of slow campaigns, and thus to render the captury of Cuba but one incident in a long struggle. European nations, other than Great Britain, regard the approach to the shores of Spain of the great Western influence with feelings of abhorrence, dismay and surprise. They are beginning to see that while for Spain there are two ways out of the trouble that besets her, for the United States there is but one. Whatever the cost and whatever the sacrifice, the American republic cannot stay her hand until Spain has been driven out of her colonial ampire in East and spondent of Harper's Weekly, has an en-

WAR'S EFFECT ON THE HORSE AND

MULE MARKET. The Purchase of These Animals by the Government Has Caused & Great Boom in Prices-

Notes and Personals.

It is said the government buying horses and mules for army purposes has had a telling effect on the market in the coun-try for this class of stock. The Marshallown (Ia.) Times-Republican says that town (ia.) Times-Republican says that horse buyers are now paying $20@30 per head more for horses than inst year at this time. That is, for heavy horses weighing from 1,300 pounds upward, and also to horses that will pass examination for cavalry use, weighing 1,000 pounds and upward. Ordinary driving horses, livery stock, is worth more than a year ago. It also says it is a curious fact that there are fewer 2-year-olds than for many years,

Packers yesterday bought here 8,540 hogs and 2,900 were taken by shippers.

The cases of glanders among horses rel-ported in Northwestern Colorado, Dr. Charles Creswell, state veterinarian, after a personal investigation, says is malignant catarrh, and has sent to Washington for mullein which he will inject into the dis-eased horses.

The improvements in the south end of the improvements in the south end of the yards are progressing favorably. The viaducts connecting the new sheep pens with the shipping tracks and main drive-ways of the yards are now practically completed, and the new sheep house will be ready for occupancy before very long.

"Woodson county, Kas, is in good shape," said F. G. Sission, who was here yesterday with hogs. "There are more cattle in the county than a year ago and the usual number of hogs in farmers' hands. Grass is good and stock of all kinds is doing well. Corn is backward, but a finer wheat prospect was never seen."

"Yes, we are doing well in Vernon county, Mo.," said Price & Palmer, who were at the yards yesterday with cattle and hogs. "Cattle are a little short, compared with last year, but there are the usual number of hogs on hand. Grass is good and stock doing well. Corn is up and looks fine. Farmers have no complaint and are fairly prosperous with us." Visitors at the Yards With Stock.

ORIGIN OF YANKEE DOODLE. The Air Universally Known in One of the Busque Provinces

From the New York Evening Sun.
"You know 'Yankee Doodle' isn't a Yankee air at all," said the Confederate major, lighting his corncob pipe and leaning back in his easy chair near the club win-

"You know Yankee Doodle' isn't a Yankee air at all," said the Confederate major, lighting his corncob pipe and leaning back in his easy chair near the club window.

"What!" exclaimed his boon companion, the son of a Federal colonei.

"No, by George!" answered the major." 'Yankee Doodle' doesn't any more belong to you Yankees than it does to the Southserners. When my father was a comparatively young man he visited San Sehastian, and met Senor Queheille, an aged Biscayan gentleman who was United States vice consul there, and Senor Queheille proved to him that 'Yankee Doodle' was a Biscayan air. My father told him about a difficulty which he and some friends had just had with a crowd of angry Basques. The Basques had surrounded them and shouted, 'Mueran mueran!' meaning 'Kill them!' Senor Queheille said to him:

"Why didn't you whistle your national air? It would have saved you.

"Our national air? my father exclaimed. 'What do these people know about that?

"Had you but whistled it. I repeat.' said the old gentleman, 'the angry Basques might have taken you to be what they modestly esteem themselves, the cream of all the Basques, for purity of race, and purity of language, and, indeed, originality of music; for the air is so old they believe our great forerather Tubal brought the tune here with him, along with our tongue. Many a man, you know, has been saved by knowing the secret signs the Free hasons use. My sons, it would have been worth the trial."

"But surely, sir, you jest,' answered my father, incredulously.

"On my word no,' answered the vice consul, 'It is most certainly an old Guipuzcoan air. I have known it from my childhood. I was amazed and amused, too, years ago when I first heard it in Boston, and asked a gentleman what it was. "Why.our national air." he replied, in a disgusted tone. "No." said I, "it is ours." He then told me that you got it from the British at Bunker Hill. I told him that might be, but I can prove the fact to you. To-morrow is one of the days those gentry outra'le let their women the Fourth of July and when you go into battle?

"The very same, answered my father.

"Come along; we have only begun the proof, and Senor Queheille hurried him from point to point of the crowded square, addressing here a woman from Vergara, there one from Hernani; now a girl from Trun, then another from Oyaraun, until he had questioned the length and breadth of Guipuscoa. The result was invariably the same. Most could sing words to the tune, a few could only hum it, like the children in our nurseries from Maine to Tampa, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, but my father had proof positive that the air of Tankee Doodle was not only known in that region, but universally known."
